

A POLITICAL MEASURE

Board of Registrars Legislated Out of Office

Republicans Have No Representation on New Board

The will of the people—or at least of two persons in Portsmouth, has prevailed and the republican members of the board of registrars have been legislated out of office by that august body now in session at Concord. This action, one of the rankest partisan measures ever passed, does not reflect any particular credit upon the framers of the bill and those who were instru-

NOT A DENT MADE IN BILL

All Day there Was Sparring Between the Two Parties But Democrats Easily Overcome Opponents

Washington, May 6.—The overwhelming democratic majority in the house today swept through the free list, howled over all opposition to free wood, free meats and other necessities and passed on to consideration of the hundred million dollar income tax feature of the Underwood tariff bill.

Not a dent was made in the bill as approved by the ways and means committee majority, and when the night session began it was expected that the measure as a whole would be passed unopposed by the house tomorrow.

All day there was sparring across the aisle dividing the democrats and the republicans. Many amendments were offered by republicans in an effort to put many free listed articles back on the dutiable list, but all were voted down with a regularity that brought smiles from the minority.
Finally, when the last of these proposed changes had been rejected, Rep-

GOVERNOR UNDECIDED

Listened Two Hours to Arguments Yesterday

Portsmouth's New Armory
Theme of Discussion

Governor Feltner has not as yet changed his mind regarding his determination to veto the Portsmouth Armory Bill. This much was learned by the editor of The Herald who talked with him on Tuesday to urge favorable action upon this measure.
The Governor points out that the Atty General states that the building is not needed, but the interviewer assured him that the war department strongly urged it. The Governor assured his caller that he would go over the matter very thoroughly and if he could conscientiously do so after a further study of the situation he would do so.

Several petitions from Portsmouth were presented to the Governor on Tuesday urging that he approve the armory appropriation.

SENATORS IN BATTLE OF WORDS

Hollis and Gallinger Have a Hot Debate on Exemption of Unions
Under the Sherman Act

New Hampshire Senators had a wordy battle Tuesday afternoon. Senator Hollis, the latest Democratic secession from New England, was making his maiden speech. He was defending the exemption of labor unions from prosecution under the Sherman act, but made observations which brought Senator Gallinger to the fore.
The junior Democrat and senior Republican had rejoined and surrejoined.
It was chiefly over Massachusetts matters, the labor conditions at Lawrence and the trial of certain strikers.

Senator Gallinger had offered an amendment to the sundry civil appropriation bill, to strike out that exemption for labor unions and farmers associations.

"I shall vote against that amendment by my distinguished colleague from New Hampshire asserted Senator Hollis. "I shall vote against it and at the suggestion of one of the older senators on this side, I give my reasons in order that it may not be understood that New Hampshire and New England are altogether deaf to the real interests of the wage earners."

Gallinger's Sarcasm
At this Senator Gallinger was on his feet to interrupt.
"Trust," said he suavely and sarcastically, "when my charming colleague reads his remarks on the record tomorrow morning he will not regret that he has put me in the attitude of being one New England man who is deaf to the interests of the laboring people."

Senator Hollis a little taken back at this, just when he was launching forth splendidly on his first speech declared that his distinguished colleague would surely be able to take care of himself without any regrets on my part or any modification of what I have already said."

He proceeded with his speech, which Senator Lodge subsequently interrupted, opposing the exemption, said "abounded with a wealth of illustrations."

Senator Hollis in one of these illustrations, cited the Lawrence strike, and asserted that the evidence against Eiler and Giovannioli, which he had read, was flimsy in the extreme."

"I have no hesitation in charging continued Senator Hollis, "that these men were arrested at the behest of the mill owners, with no expectation of a conviction, but in the hope that their arrest would cow the strikers, and their absence would break the back of the strike. It is because capital has succeeded in using the police, the militia and the legal process and the courts for its benefit.

FOUR POLICE INSPECTORS ARE ARRESTED

Were Charged With a Conspiracy to Obstruct Justice.

New York, May 6.—James F. Thompson, James E. Hunsay, John J. Murtha, and Dennis Sweeney, the four deposed police inspectors charged with conspiracy to obstruct justice, were convicted by a jury in the supreme court shortly after eight o'clock tonight.

Only 33 minutes were taken by the jurors in reaching their verdict that the defendants were guilty of a misdemeanor in plotting to keep a prospective witness against the system from making grand disclosures before the grand jury.

The accused officials stood out wardly unmoved as they heard the verdict. The crowd in the court room however, created a disturbance, shuf-fling chairs and feet until attendants checked the disorder. The prisoners gave their pedigrees and after being remanded for sentence Friday, were returned to their cells. Their counsel announced that a certificate of reasonable doubt will be sought. It is granted the prisoners will be admitted to bail pending efforts to secure a new trial.

The penalty for obstruction of justice is one year in jail or a fine of $500 or both. It was reported that the jury required only one ballot to reach its decision.

One Expected Verdict
An attorney for the defence declared the verdict was a shock and the belief of the jury's deliberations a surprise. Another of the prisoners' lawyers said no other verdict was expected. "The atmosphere of the city of New York is surcharged at the present time with a determination to convict," he said.

The conviction of Thompson, Hun-say, Murtha, and Sweeney, is regarded by District Atty. Whitman as the most important yet secured in connection with the expose of the police system that was shown to lack law enforcement with the city's underworld when Becker, the police lieutenant, hired the four gun men to murder Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, last summer.

fied that Hartman is on the wrong known at present whether the organization will play independent ball outside the league.

WANT MEDICAL MAN IN CABINET

Washington, May 6.—President Wilson was urged today by a committee of the American Medical Association to call a general conference to discuss plans for a Federal department of Public Health and everything pertaining to the conservation of human life and efficiency. Prof. Irving Fisher of Yale, Dr. John D. Murphy of Chicago, Dr. G. H. Simmons of Chicago, Dr. L. K. Frankle and Dr. Abram Jacob of New York, Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, Senator Owen, Representative Foster of Illinois and Representative Carley of Massachusetts urged the idea.

Prof. Fisher, spokesman for the party, declared that the President had not yet attended and had expressed his keen appreciation of the necessity for public health legislation but said that until he was able to make deeper study into the questions involved, he would be unable to commit himself.

Senator Owen had a private talk with Mr. Wilson on currency reform, arranging for an early conference, to set at length the President's views. Prof. Fisher of Yale, who is foremost among currency reform advocates, is likely to be consulted.

William Martin of Los Angeles, Cal., special representative of the Chinese American League of Justice, brought the President's attention to what he termed humiliation suffered by Chinese when admitted to this country. He declared Chinese business men, students and scholars, exempted from the exclusion laws, are not accorded courteous treatment when they arrive at California.

Representative Payne of New York, head of the ways and means committee on der the republican regime in the house, precipitated a lively debate by offering a brand new amendment to create a tariff commission. Instantly all the parliamentary sharpshooters on both sides were on hand. Speaker Clark sat next to Democratic Leader Underwood at the front of the speaker's rostrum where Mr. Underwood has been conducting deliberations of the bill. Representative Fitzgerald of New York rushed in from the appropriations committee armed with precedents and was followed by Representatives Reilly of Kentucky and J. D. Dwyer of Georgia, who joined in the majority protest against admitting the amendment. On the republican side, Leader Mann, Representative Gardner of Massachusetts and Payne of New York and others conferred and addressed the house.

It was all over quickly. Representative Garrett of Tennessee, in the chair, sustaining a point of order made by Mr. Underwood that the tariff commission amendment was not germane to the bill. When Representative Mann appeared from the decision the house sustained the chair 164 to 87. Representative Hullen of Tennessee, chief draftsman of the income tax feature of the tariff bill, prepared tonight to resist a campaign by the minority to amend the details of the proposed law. He expected a hard fight on by the medical insurance bill companies which he taxed 1 per cent. under the measure. The provisions affecting insurance companies were taken almost verbatim from the corporation tax law already in effect, but to avoid any possible question, committee amendments were prepared tonight to eliminate even the slightest variation from the existing law.

HOW WILL THE RAILROADS SECURE THE ADDITIONAL REVENUE

(From the Baltimore Sun.)

Few persons will dispute the abstract justice of the increased rate of pay just granted the firemen of Eastern railroads by the arbitration board appointed under the Edman act. The board was an intelligent and impartial one, and its decision was unanimous, though an generally happens in such cases, in the future of a compromise, the firemen asked an increase of about 15 per cent. It is estimated that this will cost the railroads from $2,500,000 to $3,400,000 annually. The increased pay required

St. Louis, May 7.—George Shovel, manager of the St. Louis Browns is among the players of Jimmy Austin, his happy infidel. Shovel says that Austin has developed into one of the best field basemen in the American league. To Austin belongs the credit of putting the pep in the Browns the engineers by the award of 1912 November will probably add about $2,000,000 to the annual expenses of the road. The two increases, at the lowest estimate, will mean $5,000,000 more which the railroads have got to pick up somewhere. And according to dispatches from New York, the railroads are not yet at all ready to meet the demand for an average increase of 15 per cent. This will doubtless be sealed down by the final settlement, as were the demands of the engineers and the firemen; but is granted as seems likely to be the case, the result will be the addition of several million more to the annual expenses of the railroad.

All these increases may be entirely right, but to pay them the railroads must either cut down other expenses or secure additional revenue. This might be done by neglecting the maintenance of tracks and rolling stock and other equipment, and by abandoning protected extensions and improvements, or by raising their rates. The former would not only be dangerous and inconvenient to the public, but would prove immensely costly in the long run. The only practical consequence, apparently, will be an application to the Federal authorities to permit the raising of wages. Thus the increase in wages of engineers, firemen and trainmen would finally be paid out of the pockets of the shipping and traveling public, unless the opponents of the higher freight and passenger rates should be able to show that the railroads have some secret gold mine that render them independent of ordinary business laws.

IN BRIEF.

Chicago. Members of the legislature will be guests tonight at a boxing exhibition, staged as an argument for the boxing bill pending in both houses. No admission will be charged.

Honolulu. President Wilson's policy of taking his time in the selection of men for the executive and judicial branches of the government of Hawaii is keeping office seekers here at high tension. New candidates for governor are entering the race, on the theory that the delay in the appointments means that none of these will be under consideration is satisfactory to the president. Governor Pratt expects to retire soon, and messages to dorsing various applicants to succeed him are keeping the cable busy.

SUCCEEDS VICE PRESIDENT McHENRY

Vice President A. H. Wiley of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad company and the Central

New England Railroad Company have been appointed head of the engineering, construction and maintenance department in addition to his duties as head of the operating department of these companies. Vice-President E. H. McHenry, who has been at the head of the engineering, construction and maintenance department, recently resigned from the service of the company and his resignation became effective May 1.

MELLEN LISTENS TO TRACKMEN'S PLEA

President Charles S. Mellen of the New Haven railroad yesterday morning heard the plea of the striking Boston & Maine trackmen, and stated he would consider their demand for a raise in wages. It is expected he will give the representatives of the Trackmen's Union an answer today.

CAUGHT IN ACT OF BLOWING UP HOTEL

London, May 6.—A militant suffragette caught at half past two this morning by the police in the act of placing a bomb at the entrance to the Grand Hotel, which is crowded with American tourists, was brought up at Bow street Police Court later in the day and remanded by the magistrate for further inquiries. She gave the name of Ada Ward. The bomb was in the form of a tin canister to which was attached a lighted fuse, while a placard bearing the words "votes for women" was wrapped round it. The hotel which was the object of her attack is situated on Trafalgar Square facing the spot where the disturbance at the foot of Nelson's column occurred on Sunday between the police and the militant suffragettes and their supporters.

St. Catherine's Church, the parish church of Hatcham, in the southeast of London, was gutted by fire this morning, and the outrage is placed by the police to the account of the militant suffragettes. The edifice was well lighted before the fire was discovered and the roof crashed in soon after the arrival of the firemen.

church, says he saw three women in the edifice shortly before the fire broke out. He assumed they were worshippers, as the church was always kept open for private prayer throughout the day. The vicar left the building while the women were still there and shortly afterward saw smoke issuing from the windows. A number of hassacks were found saturated with oil.

Miss Nina Boyle and Miss Anna Murray, militant suffragettes, who were arrested last evening, while attempting to hold a meeting in Hyde Park, when brought up at the Police Court today and charged, those fourteen days' imprisonment in preference to the payment of a fine of five dollars each. "Of course we will not pay," they told the magistrate.

Find Nitro Glycerine in the Mail
A bomb containing sufficient nitro-glycerine to demolish the great building was found among the packages collected by the parcel post of the Southeastern District post office in Borough High street, about half a mile to the south of London Bridge yesterday. The metallic sound of the parcel aroused suspicion among the employees, several hundred of whom were on duty at the time. The package was then plunged in water and the police called, who opened it and found it filled with gunpowder, a quantity of slugs and a tube of nitro-glycerine. No clue was obtained as to the perpetrators of the outrage, but the police, as has become customary, attach suspicion to the militant suffragettes.

Other militants evading police precautions, entered the office of the Standard, which has been attacking them. They smashed the furniture and other property and made an attack on a sub-editor named Williams. The police finally ejected them. The Women's Freedom League has sent a telegram to the police throughout Great Britain urging and entreating them to disregard Home Secretary McKenna's bill and to refuse to re-arrest hunger striking militants who are declared to have recovered sufficiently to serve out their terms.

TWENTY INJURED IN LABOR RIOT

Syracuse, N. Y., May 6.—Twenty-five persons were wounded, one fatally, in revolver fights today between policemen and foreign workmen, as a result of a laborers' and hod carriers' strike in progress here.

Four policemen and eight Italians are in the hospitals.

The militia has been called out, and before night the city will be under martial law.

Riots occurred in a dozen places in the streets. Policemen reinforced by firemen battled with gangs of 500 or more Italians around the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception.

Bullets to Match Clubs and Stones
The revolvers of the police were matched against the strikers' guns, stones and clubs.

The Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, where the fighting was hottest, is at St. Mary's Circle, only two blocks from the heart of the business section of the city. There were riots also in several other sections.

The wounded were conveyed to the hospitals, while the police covered strikers with revolvers.

Several patrolmen were knocked down with bricks or paving stones. Firemen, called to the scene, coupled hose and poured streams upon the strikers driving them back.

The police, 50 strong, fired their revolvers at the strikers, while stones and bricks were hurled back. Many of the Italians had revolvers.

JAPAN BEGINNING TO CALM DOWN

Tokio, May 6.—The announcement of the final passage of the alien land ownership bill by the Californian Legislature has not created any excitement in Tokio. The characteristic self-control of the Japanese has asserted itself. The Government officials, the press and the leaders in all walks are counselling patience and dependency on the evident determination of the American Government and the vast majority of American people to treat Japan with friendliness and fairness. The agitators and those who have been making hysterical outcries against the proposed legislation have disappeared and the sudden cessation of the excitement is taken to indicate that it was largely manufactured. Undoubtedly, however, a deep feeling of disappointment and humiliation prevails in the nation. An official protest is now in course of preparation.

Kelshiro Matsui, Vice Minister of the Foreign Office, in an interview, expresses the Japanese Government's appreciation of the attitude of the Government, the press and the people of the United States. He deprecates the violent utterances which he designated as nonsensical. "The Government and people of Japan," said the minister, "must endeavor to discover the fundamental cause of the differences and preserve the rights and dignity of the people of the respective countries by the friendliest exchange of views on the part of both Governments."

MYSTERY OF THE SEA

New York, May 6.—Life savers are trying today to solve a mystery of the sea. Shortly after midnight a yawl-rigged yacht was seen to be drifting out to sea past Sandy Hook. What boat she was or whether any persons were aboard her could not be made out.

Through their glasses the life savers could not discern anybody on board the burning vessel. They put out in an effort to reach her. When they returned they reported they had seen the yacht burn in the water's edge, but had been unable to find any one in her vicinity.

It is supposed that those who were aboard when the vessel caught fire took to the small boats and escaped. The blazing yawl was swept from the direction of Princess Bay. She was about six tons, and is thought to have been used as a houseboat by Oscar Howard of Belford, N. J.

JUST A FEW GOLF COURSES

According to figures from abroad there are more than 1800 registered golf courses in the British Isles, not of these something like 1000 are in England, Scotland is credited with 400 and Ireland 100. France has 41 courses, Germany 10, Italy 17, Belgium 7 and Russia 1. Figures are also given which show that the game may be played over there at much less expense. In some cases the annual dues are less than $5 and in hundreds of others one may play at the rate of anywhere from $5 to $10 a year.

P. A. C. LADIES' NIGHT

The Portsmouth Athletic Club have completed arrangements for another ladies' night which will be held Thursday evening. The program will include a cabaret performance in the Pelrose upper hall, when cards will be in order and refreshments served until 10:30, when after the regular performance of the Premier Scene Temple they will go down stairs and enjoy a picture show and dancing until one o'clock. The ladies' night was such a success that this one is the result of a general demand for it.

HOW THEY FOUND SCOTT, THE EXPLORER

Winnipeg, Man., May 6.—Exhaustion, and not starvation, was the cause of the death of Capt. Scott and the men who died with him on their way back from the South Pole, according to Lieut. Grant, a member of the supporting party which found the bodies. Lieut. Grant stopped off in this city for a few hours on his way to London.

"The end of the party apparently was peaceful," declared Grant. "When we came up to the tent in which the bodies lay, something seemed to tell us that the end for them had come."

Lieut. Wright of Toronto, who commanded our little party, approached the tent first and lifted the flap. Capt. Scott lay on his back as if asleep, but outside of his sleeping bag Dr. Wilson and Lieut. Bowers were in their sleeping bags, and it was apparent that they had been carefully wrapped up by Capt. Scott, who evidently was the last to die.

Lieut. Bowers lay on his side, exactly as if he were asleep. Dr. Wilson was sitting in a half reclining position, his back against the inside of the tent, facing us as we entered. On his features were the traces of a faint smile, and he looked exactly as if he were about to awaken from a sound sleep. I had often seen the same look on his face in the morning as he awakened, as he was of a most cheerful disposition. The look struck us to the heart, and we all stood silent in the presence of death.

Food and Fuel Gave Out.

"While they did not die of starvation, still all their food had given out, and worst of all, their fuel. Then it must be remembered that they were experiencing terrible storms."

"When we had secured all the equipment and the records of Capt. Scott, we laid the bodies side by side and said a burial service for them. Then we removed the poles from the tent and covered the bodies over with the canvas. On top of this we built a cairn of snow and ice 15 feet high. We took two skins, bound them together in the form of a cross and erected it on top of the cairn, a last memorial to the dead, and left them where they fell."

Grant has in his possession Scott's diary and records. He is on the way to New York, from whence he will go to London to attend the meeting of the Royal Geographical Society on May 23.

The boys on the San Francisco noted a great change in the old city.

Tuberculosis Remedy Based on Medicine

To say that a specific exists for the cure of Consumption is perhaps too strong a statement, but in Eckman's Alternative we have a medicine that has been the means of saving many a life to years of usefulness, and in permanently banishing a large number of Consumptives.

Certainly a person afflicted with a wasting disease should be well fed with wholesome, nourishing food, but frequently raw eggs in quantities cause a digestive breakdown, and then no food nourishes. As for milk, a very good food for many, but a producer of biliousness for some. Any diet that keeps a Consumptive well nourished is the right one, but what is going to improve the patient? Eckman's Alternative has brought about full recovery in many cases of Consumption. Let those speak who know. Here is one:—
"On Savannah St., Rochester, N. Y."
"I suffered on June 3, 1907, I was operated upon for Tubercular peritonitis at St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, N. Y. After the operation my physician gave me up as hopeless. I was then urged by a priest to take Eckman's Alternative, which I did. My weight at the time was 72 lbs. I began to improve and steadily gained in health and strength. I now weigh 125 pounds, and am absolutely well. Believing I owe it to myself and others, I make this statement."
(Signed) ALFRED J. EDNA FINZER
Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratories, Philadelphia, Pa., for more reference. For sale by all leading druggists and in Portsmouth by Benjamin Green.

Clean Up and Keep Clean.

This paper will have much to say this spring about the above subject. There is no reason why we should not have the cleanest city in the state, even if we cannot boast of the largest. Every man, woman and child in our city ought to respond to the appeals that are being made to make the city neat and attractive and clean and sanitary. It is only a small matter for each family to clean up its own premises, but with every family in town doing this the whole city will not only present an attractive appearance but will be more healthful as well. Let everyone join in this war against dirt, disease, rubbish, ugliness and indifference to the public good, and when the city is in the condition it should be, let everyone help to keep it so. The city is in urgent need of cleansing and purifying after the long winter and the dampness of early spring, and all effort to this end will bring reward a hundred fold.

Those Happy School Days.

Graduation day with all its flowers, will soon be here. You can already scent the fragrance of blossoms. Our people have always taken great pride in our schools, and no student ever carried away a diploma but took it with the best wishes of our people. Speaking of the rapid approach of another graduation-day reminds us that there is nothing more pleasant in the busy hum-drum of after years than to permit your mind to wander back to the days of school life, the sweet memories and incidents that come up, the smiling faces and pleasant countenances; the old school house door, that has so often admitted you, swinging back and forth on its great hinges; the very walls speaking forth of happy hours; while at your side stands the noble teacher who has watched your every move, and is as much interested in your success as you are yourself.

The Pup Has the Preference.

If a man had a fifty dollar pup he would look after it carefully and not let it have the run of the town day and night. But if he has a child it is different. They are turned loose at a tender age to go where they will and do what they please. People wonder where the great army of tramps, dead beats, gamblers, and disreputable women come from. They are germinated from the seed gathered in countless homes and sown broadcast upon the streets of our cities and towns. There are thousands of children who are heading in that direction, who, as far as care is concerned are not given equal showing with a valuable pup.

Has Come to Stay.

The parcel post has come to stay. Its use by the people will grow rapidly. And there should be a prompt response to this patronage on the part of the government in the way of increased and improved facilities. This duty not only devolves upon the postoffice department but chiefly upon Congress, which should authorize and provide for more parcel post stations and cut such foolish restrictions as that which bars a book from the post while admitting a brick or a cabbage.

You Can't Keep Them Away.

Other towns may be jealous of our little city and its trade, but there is no jealousy on the part of our people. Our merchants and our business men are liberal in their dealings and hold out inducements in both quality and price to draw trade. They advertise this fact, and when people come they find things as advertised, and this, with the disposition to please are sure trade winners. This is why people are coming from other places to trade. You can't keep them away.

The Difference.

When a man drops a piece of meat on the floor, no difference how clean the floor may be, he will either give it a kick or pick it up and lay it to one side. He will never eat it. But let him drop his plug of tobacco on the street, and no difference how dirty the street may be, he will pick it up, give it a careless swipe on his coat sleeve or on the bosom of his pants, and then take a big chew from it with keener relish than ever. This is the kind of a vitrified brick man is.

A Good Alternative.

If you have one of the new nickels, you had better keep one as a souvenir as it is understood no more are to be issued. Slot machine manufacturers are finding fault with the nickel, claiming that it cannot be used with facility in their devices. However, it has been found that the new coin can be slipped into a savings deposit without inconvenience, and using it in that way is a very commendable alternative.

New Ideas in the Observance of Arbor Day Are Supplementing Formal Tree Planting Ceremonies.

There are new ideas nowadays as to how Arbor day should be celebrated. The tendency is to make it a day of generally cleaning up and beautifying the earth instead of devoting it merely to the tree planting ceremony of former years. This illustration shows how the children of Fort Washington, N. Y., celebrated Arbor day this year. They literally "scoured" the town, collecting all the rubbish from yards, alleys and streets and piling it where it could be easily disposed of. Similar observances of the day are reported from other towns. The new Arbor day is rapidly finding favor, and in view of the general agitation in favor of an annual municipal "housecleaning day" its development to a high degree of usefulness is possible.

NEW ENGLAND SECURES MANY NEW INDUSTRIES

Report of Industrial Bureau Shows What Railroads Have Been Doing.

EIGHTY-FOUR NEW PLANTS

The Result of Two Years' Work By the New Bureau of the Railroads.

The railroad of today can be not alone a transportation agent; it can be a constructive force as well, working in many communities stimulating industrial and agricultural development throughout an entire region.

What the chamber of commerce or board of trade is to the locality which it serves, it can assist in the work of developing a territory unhampered by State line or local jealousies; can be, or it can be, a central station of industrial energy having for its object the improvement not of one town but of many. Its branches are like so many transmission lines radiating from the power station over which this upbuilding force may be carried to the farthest corners of the region through which the railroad runs.

It is only in recent years that some of the more advanced railroads of the country have come to make this a separate and distinct feature of their work. What little was done in this direction before was regarded as being merely a part of the work of the freight department of a road. Now a few railroads like the New England lines have so systematized and developed this department as to make of it a separate bureau. To this the railroads have given the name of Industrial Bureau. The work today of such a bureau covers a wide and ever increasing field, the results of which in the end would appear to be incalculable.

The energy of the railroad exerted through such a bureau is not an enforced one. Under our present methods of railroad regulation a railroad is compelled to run a sufficient number of trains; its equipment must conform to certain conditions; its rates must comply with the law. But the railroad is not compelled by law to expend large sums of money to improve the soil, to conduct experimental farms and educate the farmers; it is not compelled to collect and disseminate industrial information for all those who may desire it, to reach out beyond the borders of its own region and attempt to bring in new industries, to beam towns and cities, to act as a sort of real estate broker without charge for its services, to aid in the development of natural resources and to place all its facilities at the disposal of the man with capital to invest.

This is what some railroads, notably those of New England, have undertaken to do today in the establishment of so-called industrial bureaus. They have done this of their own accord, because the welfare of the railroad is inseparably linked with the welfare of the community, because prosperity for one means prosperity for the other, but how many stop to think that the railroad does anything more than carry passengers and freight? How many are likely to give any credit to the railroad for the new manufacturing plant which may spring up in a town, adding to its wealth and population? Yet the railroad may have been directly responsible for this new industry, and its location may have been the result of months of hard work on the part of the railroad's industrial bureau.

The results achieved in this new field of railroad endeavor have been more than gratifying in the case of New England, whose need of organized effort toward maintaining her industrial position has long been recognized. An industrial bureau covering the New Haven, Boston and Maine, and Maine Central systems was organized two years ago under the unification plan of President Mellen's. At the head of this bureau is W. H. Seeley, formerly general passenger and freight agent of the Central New England.

Despite the time necessarily taken to organize such a bureau effectively there has been secured as a result of its efforts in the short period of twenty-three months a total of eighty-four new manufacturing plants. These plants represent an investment of $4,198,800. Although many of them are yet in their infancy all told they give employment to 4411 men. Taking the census average of three and a quarter persons to the family that makes a total industrial population of 14,360 persons for whom these new industries mean a living.

According to the census figures, the average wages paid per annum by manufacturers in New England for 1909 was $506.31. Consequently this would represent a total wage disbursement of $2,231,981. This means that much money paid out right in New England and distributed among the population generally.

To be sure, not all of these industries are new or originated outside of New England. A few were New England industries which were prevented from moving out of New England by securing suitable sites for them. But it is estimated that at least ninety per cent. have come from outside the confines of New England or have been newly created, and consequently over $2,000,000 additional wage disbursement each year.

A total of thirty-seven New England towns and villages have benefited in this way from the work the railroads have performed in this direction and all within a period of twenty-three months. Some cities, by reason of superior advantages, have secured more than one of these industries. New Bedford, Conn., for example, was fortunate enough to secure three plants; Boston and vicinity got twenty. The report of the Industrial Bureau shows that these industries were distributed over all the New England states. In one instance the invested capital ran as high as $500,000, and the number of employees amounted to 300.

As showing the industries which New England has gained in this manner and their diversity here is the list: Thermos bottles, trolley wheels, rubber fabric, sanitary fixtures, lime cement, automobiles, wire books, textile, powder, tobacco, lumber, agricultural implements, milk, boots and shoes, wood-ware, mattresses, wool cleaning, (both picks, excelsior, novelty signs, machinery, roofing, sash, doors, blinds and broom handles.

Naturally the work of the industrial bureau of a railroad is done in co-operation with boards of trade. In New England, for example, something like 250 boards of trade were communicated with before these plants were finally located. It is in being a sort of central board of trade that the value of a railroad's industrial bureau would seem chiefly to lie in securing and fostering new industries. It is becoming more and more the practice for the capitalist or manufacturer to go to the railroad with his requirements and the railroad's industrial bureau takes off his hands the work of looking up sites to meet these conditions. It does this by communicating not with one but with hundreds of boards of trade and sending its own agents out to cover an entire region and secure information which may be of help in the matter. And its work is done entirely free of charge.

That New England is certain to profit immensely by the organized effort represented in the establishment of this industrial bureau is proved by the results thus far attained. Since April 1, when this report was made, the figures of the bureau respecting new industries established show an increase of 56 2-3 per cent., evidence that New England is more than holding her own. Relatively speaking, such results have not been attained anywhere else, it is believed, and these figures demonstrate better than words what a constructive force the railroads in New England are today.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

A Shift of Scare.

There seems to be some basis to the stories that the two great German armament companies have been promoting war agitations in order to sell their goods. Probably the promotion was done by irresponsible persons, but at any rate a shift of scare in Germany from the government to the armament makers seems a thing to be thankful for. The armament business has been extremely profitable and profits are tempting and liable to become a habit, but the business seems to have been overdone. A sharp attack of Krupp nausea in Germany might bring relief to all the world.—Harper's Weekly.

Hard on Some Corporations.

The Supreme Court of the United States has given a decision that a corporation cannot evade its debts by reorganizing. Eminent corporation attorneys who have been interviewed defectively admit that this ruling will compel corporations to be pretty nearly as honest as individuals.—St. Louis Republic.

Not Resigning.

In view of the heart-breaking situation that has developed in Washington we are compelled to say that the republican officeholders are displaying their innate wickedness and depravity by not voluntarily resigning and permitting our patriots to get their front feet in the trough for an inning.—Houston Post.

Shorter Term Enlistments.

There is again complaint of the difficulty of keeping the ranks of the army and navy full, and the secretaries of the respective departments are busy with plans that will produce better results. A shorter term of enlistment is proposed and is doubtless worth a trial. Now, the inducements must needs be exceptional to attract active young men from the work and opportunities of civil life. There is no trouble about getting recruits when there is a promise of actual fighting, but few Americans care to undergo army discipline and accept the restrictions upon their coming and going for a life of inactivity on small pay, however sure.—Columbus Dispatch.

Failure or Success?

If Secretary Bryan's errand in California was to prevent alien-land legislation, it was a failure. If it was to persuade the Californians to enact a law in harmony with our treaty with Japan, it was a great success. There is no reason why any one here should be more Japanese than the Japanese, or why, so long as they abide by the treaty, we should pick flaws in it on their account. It seems to stand to reason that when local demagogues reverse their laws in harmony with national obligations they have done about all that can be expected of them. Utrun Johnson's legislature started out to violate the treaty in several of its most important clauses.—New York World.

HALF HOLIDAY.

Congressman Curley Sees the President on Extension for Employees.

Representative Curley of Massachusetts who has taken an important part in the efforts of increased holidays for government employees saw the President on Tuesday about the project. He was given to understand that a decision would be reached with in a short time.

Mr. Curley has been told that the Cabinet does not appear to be all one way as to whether there will be greater efficiency if more half holidays are added. While some of the Cabinet members believe that the additional half holidays will add to the efficiency of the civil service workers, others take the position that there are so many superannuated clerks that it will be difficult for the younger clerks to make up the time that would be lost by extra hours away from work.

The discussion has brought to the attention of the President and his Cabinet in a most forcible manner the necessity for retirement of superannuated clerks on pensions and will, it is said, occupy much of the time of the President.

RAILROAD NOTES

The trackmen of the terminal division of the Boston & Maine who are out on a strike and who have been refused an increase of wages, will have a conference with President C. H. Mellen today. The previous conference was with Vice President Horn who declined to advance anything on the demands of the men.

Vice President A. R. Whaley of the New York, New Haven, and Hartford railroad company and the Central New England Railroad Company has been appointed head of the engineering construction and maintenance department in addition to his duties as head of the operating department, recently resigned from the service of the company and his resignation became effective May 1.

Foreman Whalen and section crew are putting several new ties and making other repairs on the roadbed of the track in the local yard.

During the coming summer the Grand Trunk Pacific railroad plans to lay 6000 miles of steel in western Canadian provinces. A gap of 400 miles will be completed early next fall. About 8000 men are now on the company's payroll and plans are in progress for the establishment of a fleet of steamships between the Pacific coast and Great Britain.

At the next convention of the Order of Railway Mail Conductors, 15,000 employed in the Pullman service are to ask for membership. Conductors in the Pullman service are said to be the lowest paid branch of employees in the public carrying service. Boston and Maine agents, operators and towermen were notified on Tuesday of the increase in wages recently granted by the officials.

ANNUAL SESSION.

Knights of Golden Eagle of Massachusetts Will Meet at Leominster.

The thirty-second annual session of the Grand Castle of Massachusetts, Knights of the Golden Eagle, will be held in A. O. U. W. hall, Main street, Leominster, Mass., on Tuesday, May 13. The meeting will be called to order at 10 o'clock, a. m., sharp, and it is earnestly requested that every member of the Grand Castle who is entitled to a seat therein will deem it his duty to be present in season for the opening.

The master of records of each castle is requested to forward to the grand master of records, not later than May 5, the names of all past chiefs who were not in good standing Dec. 31, 1912, but who have since paid up their arrears. This is very important, as a failure on the part of the master of records to do so would deprive the grand officers of the privilege of voting for the grand officers for the ensuing year.

The masters of records are to forward to the grand master of records, not later than May 5, a list of all members admitted since Dec. 31, 1912.

Candidates for admission should report to the committee on credentials at the hall with their certificates, not later than 9:15 a. m. Any member of the committee on credentials who cannot be present should notify the grand master of records in season to have a substitute appointed in his stead.

All district grand chiefs who have not already done so will at once forward to the grand master of records their badges, rituals, secret work reports, etc., with their names, so that a correct account of the Grand Castle property can be rendered, also a list of the disbursements granted, with the original request for the same, to be placed on file.

Conductor C. H. Carroll is out after his illness which proved to be a severe case of lumbago, and not a shock as reported.

FELKER VETOES THE ACROSS STATE ROAD BILL

Bill May Be Passed Over Veto--Fish and Game Bill Goes Over--Other Business.

Concord, May 6.—Governor Felker this morning sent his fifth veto message to the house, when he returned without his signature the measure known as the Perkins bill, which provides for a cross-state highway from the Connecticut to the sea, passing through Manchester and ending at Portsmouth.

The bill abolishing the fish and game commission and providing for a fish and game commissioner was reported and after considerable discussion was finally made a special order for tomorrow morning.

The bill providing for compulsory supervision of schools throughout the state was killed.

There was but a small attendance of the members when Speaker Britton rapped the house to order this morning at 10:15 o'clock for the beginning of the nineteenth week of the session.

Prayer was offered by Chaplain Walsh. Leaves of absence were granted Messrs. Underhill of Auburn, Bugbee of Franklin, Fairbanks of Manchester, Stickney of Campton, Bragg of Londonderry, Russell of Conway, Jacques of Newbury, Fletcher of Greenfield, Hurd of Lempster, Brewster of Portsmouth, and Bannan of Rochester.

A message was received vetoing House Bill 635, otherwise known as the Perkins highway bill and which provides for a cross-state road from the Connecticut river to Portsmouth, through Manchester.

Governor's Veto.

The following is the text of the governor's veto:

To the House of Representatives: In General Court convened:

Gentlemen: I return House Bill No. 635, hereby vetoing the same, for the following reasons:

This bill as it was originally introduced by the committee on appropriations, was entitled "An act to provide for the issuance of bonds to complete the building of the Trunk Line highways, as provided by Chap. 35, Laws of 1905, entitled 'An Act to provide for state aid and for the expenditures of other public moneys in the permanent improvement of main highways throughout the state.'"

In its terms, as originally drafted, it authorized the issuance of bonds to an amount not exceeding $300,000, "for the purpose of further carrying out the purpose of Sect. 19, of Chap. 35 of the Laws of 1905," or, in other words, to complete the three north and south trunk lines.

The bill as originally drafted was in accordance with my ideas as conveyed to you in my inaugural message, wherein I said: "We have 370,000 miles of the three trunk lines constructed at the present time. There are 405,94 miles yet to be built. The state has put into the building of these roads to the present time $1,000,000, paying on an average 70 per cent of the total cost. It will take about $250,000 more to complete these three boulevards. I recommend that they be completed."

The original draft of this measure called for an amount not exceeding $300,000 for just this purpose. This amount was fixed at that figure because of the state highway engineer's estimate that it will require $228,000 to complete these lines. The original bill met with my approval, because I believed the people of this state desire to have the roads which they have expended $1,000,000 toward constructing completed, and that, too, before new enterprises of the same nature are taken on at a large cost.

The relationship of the bill as presented to me in the original measure is somewhat clear and obscured by placing a new title to the measure, and giving first place therein to a new line crossing the southern end of the state, and carrying an appropriation of $150,000 therefor.

The only reason which I can conceive for so changing the original bill and combining the southern cross line therewith is to force it upon the state by attaching it to a measure which, as originally drawn, was known to have my approval, and possibly to give the idea that such a line will cost comparatively little. If I am correctly informed by the highway department that the southern cross-country line will cost in the neighborhood of $350,000, then the people are not being properly enlightened as to the first cost of the objects sought to be attained by the new draft of this bill. It is not impossible that many representatives are not informed that it would require practically another $150,000 to complete the work that this bill calls for.

If the state can first complete the trunk lines, then the people will declare their desires as to the need of highways across the state, and the location and number can be intelligently determined after full consideration.

Until that is done and until further experience demonstrates the cost of the upkeep of roads of this nature, I think the matter of cross roads should be either held in abeyance or submitted to a committee who will view the various routes, hear what is to be said as to their practicability and report their conclusion at subsequent session.

Respectfully submitted,
SAMUEL D. FELKER
Governor.

Given at the Council Chamber, in Concord, N. H., May 6th, 1913.

The bill which provides for the abolishment of the board of fish and game commissioners and the appointment of a game commissioner was reported from the house committee on appropriations with the recommendation that it pass.

Mr. Perkins of Manchester opposed the bill, saying that the statement that the change would result in a saving to the state was not founded on fact, that the members of the present board received in salaries a total of $2600 and that under the provisions of the bill the commissioner would receive $1800 and a clerk $900 an increase of $100 in the office.

Mr. Perkins said that in addition to this the bill provided for deputies in each county, which would cost at least $50 per day more; that the fish and game commission had not cost the state one cent; that on the contrary they had turned into the state treasury in the last three years over $20,000.

Mr. Ahern of Concord supported the bill, saying that the bill provided in every way for the protection of the fish and game and the proper enforcement of the laws, that the large amount expended without return called for a change.

Mr. Perkins of Manchester said that Mr. Ahern's statement that more money was paid detectives than they brought into the treasury by them was the first attempt that had ever come to his attention on the floor of the house to capitalize the violations of the law; that a policeman was not expected to return dollars for his salary.

Mr. Perkins offered an amendment providing that the collection of resident hunters' license fees be abolished; that the expenses of the department be paid from the money collected for violations of the fish and game laws, and that the balance remaining be used for the screening of lakes and ponds.

Mr. Ahern opposed the amendment, on the ground that it cut off a revenue of the state.

Mr. Perkins said that he could not understand why the hunters of the state should be required to pay money to the state for the maintenance of highways or the support of the forestry commission.

Mr. Wagner of Manchester, a member of the fish and game committee, said that the fishermen and hunters had not been fairly treated by the state; that the money from hunters' licenses had not been expended as it should be and that the streams were not stocked as they should be on this account.

On a division of the house, the necessary two thirds not having voted, the chair ruled that there had been no valid action taken. The vote stood 89 yes, 120 no.

Mr. Perkins moved that the bill be indefinitely postponed and called for a roll call. This motion he later withdrew, and on motion of Mr. Ahern of Concord the bill was laid on the table and made a special order for Wednesday at 10:30 o'clock.

Mr. Callahan of Keene demanded a roll call, but later withdrew his resolution.

A house joint resolution appropriating $1200 for advertising the agricultural advantages of the state was introduced from the committee on appropriations.

The matter of an appropriation for sanitary drinking fountains was also the subject of considerable discussion. The appropriation was opposed by Messrs. Lee and Ahern of Concord, and favored by Mr. Lawrence of Haverhill. A message from the senate was received to the effect that the upper branch had concurred in the Wagner bill, regulating the fares on street railway lines in cities of 35,000 or more population. The bill provides for an investigation by the public service commission as to whether the roads could without a loss sell tickets at reduced rates to school children and working people between certain hours.

The bill which provides for the reforestation of the waste lands of the state was reported from the appropriations committee as inexpedient. Mr. Robbins of Ossipee attempted to have the bill recommitted for a further hearing, but was defeated on a division of the house by a vote of 87 to 140, and the report of the committee was adopted. The bill for more efficient supervision of schools, which provides for compulsory supervision of the schools of the state, was proposed by Mr. Lawrence of Haverhill as being too drastic, and he moved an amendment permanently establishing all existing supervisory districts.

Mr. Griffin of Newmarket opposed the amendment also on the ground that it was too drastic. Mr. Bean of Belmont favored the bill. Mr. O'Neil of Walpole opposed the amendment. Mr. Shepard of Bosawen favored the original bill. Mr. Smith of Mason said the bill was unnecessary that the present law gave all the power that was needed.

Mr. Wagner of Manchester moved the previous question and the amendment was rejected. Mr. Webster of Windham moved that the bill be indefinitely postponed. Mr. Morse of Newmarket opposed the bill, and asked Mr. French of Moultonborough of the appropriations committee for figures as to the cost to the town and state if the bill passed. Mr. French stated that the cost to the towns and state would amount to in the vicinity of $45,000. Mr. Morse said he was in favor of indefinitely postponing the bill; that there was already law enough. Mr. Polson of Dover favored the bill. Mr. Allen of Haverhill opposed the bill on the ground that it would place a burden on the towns. Mr. Webster of Chester opposed the bill on the ground that it was putting an unnecessary burden of expense on the smaller towns. Mr. Flynn of Manchester moved the previous question, and the motion to indefinitely postpone the bill was carried, the vote being 156 yes to 119 no.

Mr. Lawrence of Haverhill gave notice of a motion to reconsider the vote. A motion by Mr. Curtis of Concord to reconsider at the present time was lost.

ASSASSINATOR OF KING GEORGE A SUICIDE

Athens, Greece, May 5.—Alexo Schinas, who assassinated King George of Greece on March 18, at Saloniki, committed suicide this morning by hanging himself out of a window of the police station in that city.

Schinas, who was a native of the town of Volo, Thessaly, killed the king by firing point blank into his back while he was walking along the streets of Saloniki, accompanied by an aid de camp. He gave as an explanation of the crime that in 1911 he had applied for assistance at the King's Palace and had been driven away by an aid de camp.

A few days ago the doctors examined Schinas and announced that he was suffering from tuberculosis.

A UNIQUE CONTEST

Washington, D. C., May 6.—A unique contest was today inaugurated by the Southern Commercial Congress which offers fifteen free trips to the Panama Canal for the best suggestions for a memorial to commemorate the opening of the canal. The announcement was made today by Senator Duncan H. Fletcher of Florida, President of the Congress.

The Congress believes the completion of the canal should be marked by some suitable memorial, and the contest will arouse interest in the study of the trade relations of the canal to the United States, Latin America, and the world.

The memorial can take any form, a statue, an international celebration, a book, a convention—anything that the jury of award decides is the best suggestion to commemorate the completion of the canal.

Secretary of State Bryan and John Barrett, Director General of the Pan-American Union, with others to be selected by themselves, will constitute the jury of award. They will decide the fifteen best suggestions.

The trips to the canal will be made in October next, from Mobile, Alabama, where the fifth annual convention of the Southern Commercial Congress will be held, coincident with the opening of the canal. At this convention the American commission of the congress, which sailed April 26th for a three months tour of fourteen European countries to study at first hand new trade conditions and possibilities that will come with the opening of the canal.

The contest is open to any newspaper, chamber of commerce, board of trade, commercial organization, college or high school or individual. Each suggestion for the memorial should if possible, be printed in some newspaper and a copy of the newspaper containing the suggestion must

POLITICAL PRISONERS SENT TO ISLAND.

Portugal Does Not Want Them Around Home.

Lisbon, Portugal, May 6.—The Portuguese Government has sent all the political prisoners arrested for complicity in the last attempt to overthrow the present Republic on Sunday, April 27, to the Azores for trial and punishment.

About 200 of the prisoners were marched at dawn yesterday on board the steamship Cabo Verde, which had been chartered by the Government. She sailed immediately, bound for Terceira Island, where the accused will be court-martialed in the fortress of Angra, the capital of the island.

The Portuguese Premier was questioned last night in Parliament on the subject and replied that the prisoners had been sent to Angra, under the provisions of the law giving the Government the right to choose any place for the trial of political prisoners.

The families of the accused are terrified by the step taken by the Government, and express fear about what may happen to their relatives when they arrive on the remote island and are placed in the secluded stronghold. The riots on April 27, in which the prisoners were implicated were started by the ultra Republicans, who gathered in groups before the barracks of Lisbon, where they fired revolvers and exploded small bombs, meanwhile cheering for "the radical republicans."

In Opposing Woman's Suffrage Bill, Says He Will Resign if Cabinet Does Not Follow Him.

London, May 6.—In opposing the Women's Suffrage bill in the House of Commons today, Premier Asquith said he would resign if his colleagues in the Cabinet ever suggested that they did not feel justified in following a Government, the head of which was opposed to them.

ITALY HAS TO PAY FOR MISTAKE

The Hague, Netherlands, May 6.—The Franco-Italian court of arbitration in dealing with the seizure by Italian warships during the Tunisian war of the French steamship Carthage and Manoubia decided today that Italy was in the wrong, and condemned the Italian Government to pay $32,000 and $800 in the respective cases.

The Carthage was seized on Jan. 17, 1912, on suspicion that she had contraband goods on board. She was released two days later, on the request of the French Government.

The Manoubia was seized on Jan. 18, 1912, while she was carrying a Turkish medical mission. She was allowed to proceed on her voyage after landing her Turkish passengers.

TEACHING HER TO SWIM

A small boy went up to another in the street and said: "Can you tell a fellow how to learn a girl to swim?" "Oh!" said the other kiddie, "you goes up to her gentle like, leads her gently down to the water, puts your arm gentle round her waist!" "O, go on!" interrupted the boy; "what's the matter with yer? She's my sister!" "Yer sister? O, shove her in!" Philadelphia Record.

SENATORS IN BATTLE OR WORDS

that I believe the congress should even matters as far as possible by legislation like this."

"We know what Haywood and E. J. Connelley and Giovanni did," said Senator Gallinger, when he obtained an opportunity to reply. "We know what utterances fell from their lips on Boston Common and elsewhere. We know that they went into Lawrence for the purpose of creating strife and discord and agitation and they accomplished it, all in the name of labor, and we know what the result has been."

He quoted what Haywood said in Boston two days ago against entering into an agreement with the capitalist class at any time. "Our motto should be to exterminate that class and enslave ourselves."

"We are a patient people," continued Senator Gallinger, looking defiantly at his young colleague, seated on the opposite side of the senate chamber. "If we were not a patient people a man who uttered that statement in public, saying that he was in favor of exterminating the capitalist classes of this country would be taken care of by the legal forces of the United States."

"I am not opposed to the laboring man, or to the cause of laboring men, but I am opposed to men like that, and I hope the time will come when the senate of the United States in its wisdom will be willing to enact laws that will take care of that class of men and will prevent them from inciting to violence and to murder the poor people they are haranguing from day to day."

Holla Explains Views

Senator Gallinger did not reply to other statements by Senator Holla, but said he might have further remarks to make before the debate was over. But Senator Holla had said much about the other phases of the labor situation in New England. He declared that three exemptions were involved in the exemption provision. Was it class legislation, and if so, did it make any difference? Was it expedient to favor associations of farmers and wage earners by passing the bill as it stood?

He said he had received many telegrams from manufacturers the past week, urging him to vote against the exemption clause. He proposed to face the issue squarely. It was class legislation, but there was no constitutional limitation and no public policy which forbade discrimination like this among classes. "Our laws are full of them," added Senator Holla, citing the tariff law, the income tax, limitations on hours of labor in mills and factories and hunting license laws.

It was in asserting the expediency of the proposed law that Senator Holla alluded to the Lawrence strike. He was drawing a distinction between one man doing a certain thing by himself to get the better of his rival by constraint of trade and conspiring with another to put a third man out of business. The Sherman law applied to conspiracies.

Reviews Lawrence Shooting

"Take the Lawrence crimes," for example said he, "Eltor and Giovanni were indicted for bringing about the death of a woman. I believe the fatal shot was fired by a policeman or a soldier at a striker. It killed an innocent bystander. It was claimed by the prosecuting officer that Eltor and Giovanni were guilty because they incited the strikers to deeds of violence. So far as the crime of inciting to murder is concerned, it made no difference whether Eltor and Giovanni acted singly or in combination. Such indictment is always a crime."

"But Mr. William M. Wood, president of the American Woolen Company, one of the chief beneficiaries of the Payne-Adair bill was indicted for conspiracy with Atkinson and Collins in bringing dynamite to Lawrence to be planted in the homes of strikers in order that they might be brought into disrepute and be liable to prosecution."

Favors Class Legislation

"This was a crime under a Massachusetts statute, and as I understand it, might not have been a crime under that statute if Mr. Wood had acted alone."

"It is because business beneficiaries of the tariff, like Mr. Wood have undertaken to circumvent their employees by tricks and unjust prosecutions and because they have such resources and influence over the public authorities, that I favor laws for them that shall not apply to farmers and wage earners. They have set themselves apart as a class of gilded beneficiaries. I believe in class legislation against them as much as they believe in class legislation for their benefit."

"I believe that the state of New Hampshire owes me to the senate because of my views on this subject, and I should fail in my duty if I did not state what I believe to be the true attitude."

Senator Lodge spoke very forcibly in favor of Senator Gallinger's amendment. "I say," he declared, "it is a dangerous thing for us to give a privilege to any man by which he can violate a universal law with an impunity guaranteed to him by law which his fellow citizens do not possess."

ITEMS OF INTEREST TO NAVY YARD EMPLOYEES

Mysterious Patient

A mysterious patient in a hospital at Rochester, Minn., who suffered a complete loss of memory by a blow on the head, is thought to be a brother of pay Inspector Martin M. Ramsey, formerly of this yard. He disappeared from Washington, Sept. 3, 1908.

Junk Men Fined

Bernard Hess of New York was fined $1,000 and Herbert Canals $200 at Boston on Tuesday by Judge Morton at the U. S. district court for conspiracy. They purchased some brass and copper from the Charleston navy yard, and it was charged that they conspired to deceive the yard in reporting the load weighing less than it did.

Sailor in the River

Quartermaster Hanson connected with the yard commandant's barge, is some diver. This morning he made a pretty plunge into the icy waters of the Piscataqua near the yard ferry landing. His comrades say that Hanson was not looking for the dip, but the unexpected bath came as the result of an attempt to push the boat from the dock in which he lost his balance. Hanson claims that the others of the crew were inclined to be lenient with the expectation of medals, but he prevented them from displaying their bravery by saving himself.

Too Much Enlistment

Among the prisoners brought to the yard from New York on Tuesday was a former member of the marine guard who makes his home in this city. He was dressed in an army uniform, and will do ten years for a variety of enlistments, including army, navy, and marine corps.

Workmen Taken Ill

A workman named Shapleigh, suffered an ill turn, shortly after the workmen's boat landed at the navy yard this morning. He was taken to the guard house at the main gate where the yard medical officer attended him. Later he was sent to his home in the city.

The Right Spirit

It has often been remarked about the generosity of the members of the marine guard at the barracks. There has never been a time when any man at the post or his relatives have been in need that the financial response has not been credit to the men stationed there. A hard luck soldier here received money a lift from his comrades who believe in sticking when a man is down and out. The spirit in this case has never been lacking.

Now for Crack Shots

A shooting gallery for the use of the guard at the naval prison will be erected near the institution. The structure will be 100 feet long and is estimated to cost $1,000.

Movements of Naval Vessels.

Scout Cruiser Chester Ordered to Boston for Repairs.

The navy department has ordered the scout cruiser Chester to the Boston navy yard for repairs. She is just back from Gibraltar and requires overhauling. The department was unable to comply with the wishes of certain Massachusetts people that the scout cruiser Salem be sent to the Boston yard. She is being repaired at Philadelphia.

The horse and wagon escaped unharmed. The horse started while the driver was delivering his orders.
